Welcome to Explore Carolina! Today, you’ll get a chance to meet current students and faculty, learn about life at UNC, and hear about some of the exciting opportunities that await you here. We hope it’ll be a fun and informative day that will give you a glimpse of what your life could be like as a Tar Heel. Please use this agenda as a guide so that you can plan your day accordingly. For lunch, we’ve set aside two and half hours to give you more flexibility to socialize, relax, or do more exploring. Please note that as listed on page 3, you have a few options to choose from based on how you’d like to plan your day.

AGENDA

Explore Carolina is a conference-style event, so you’ll have the opportunity to pick which sessions interest you most. If your family members are with you, we encourage you to “divide and conquer” if there are additional sessions you’d like to attend.

Things to do in Chapel Hill

EXPLORE CAROLINA

The UNC campus and surrounding area offer many opportunities to learn, discover, play and eat great food! Listed below are some popular points of interest we hope you'll explore.

Carolina Men's Basketball Museum
450 Skipper Bowles Drive,
Ernie Williamson Athletic Center
Map Location R-24
The Carolina Men's Basketball Museum features artifacts, videos, photos, statistical and historical panels that highlight the history of the Carolina Basketball program. The museum experience begins with a six-minute theater presentation and also includes interactive presentations highlighting Carolina's championships and many of the greatest games and most exciting finishes in Tar Heel history. Open from 10:00 am to 4:00 pm.

Carolina Women's Basketball Museum
310 South Road, East Entrance
Map Location N-9
The Carolina Women's Basketball Museum is located off the main lobby of the newly renovated Carmichael Arena. Opened in December of 2010, the museum includes many exhibits and artifacts on the history of the Carolina women's basketball program and features the team's nine ACC championships, three NCAA Tournament Final Four appearances, and 1994 NCAA Tournament Championship. Open from 8:00 am to 5:00 pm.

Coker Arboretum
Intersection of Cameron Ave. and Raleigh St.
Map Location J-4
Fondly known by many as a quiet haven in the middle of UNC's busy campus, the Coker Arboretum was started by UNC professor William Chambers Coker in 1903. The Arboretum was the first scientific collection of plants south of the Potomac River, and it continues to provide a beautiful and educational display of over 500 species of flora. Open from dawn to dusk.

Kenan Football Center and Hall of Honor
104 Stadium Road
Map Location I-13
The Kenan Football Center Hall of Honor displays photographs, awards, trophies and artifacts detailing the rich and storied history of football at UNC. The 18 Carolina players who have been honored by placing their names and numbers on display in the stadium are also featured with special plaques, flags and audio-visual presentations. The James A. Heavner Theater shows seven dramatic videos presenting the history of UNC football. Open from 8:00 am to 5:00 pm.

Sonja Haynes Stone Center for Black Culture & History
105 South Road
Map Location H-12
The Sonja Haynes Stone Center for Black Culture and History is part of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. As a center within the University's Academic Affairs Division, we have a central role in supporting the University's academic mission. We have a commitment to broaden the range of intellectual discourse about African-Americans and to encourage better understanding of peoples of the African diaspora and their perspectives on important social and cultural issues. Open from 9:00 am to 8:00 pm.

Carolina Indian Center
113A Abernethy Hall
Map Location C-6
The American Indian Center is a campus-wide center that will advance the University's overall mission of research, teaching and public service by creating an environment in which quality research, scholarship, and engagement related to American Indians is strengthened, nurtured and coordinated. North Carolina is home to one of the largest Native populations in the eastern United States and the center serves as the University's front door to American Indian communities across the state and the nation. Open from 8:00 am to 5:00 pm.
