Students are encouraged to apply well before the deadline to allow adequate time for course registration. Students applying closer to the deadline should be aware that their course selection may be limited.

Note: International students who will require an I-20 from UNC-Chapel Hill should submit their application and all supporting materials at least six weeks before the Priority Deadline.

Who Should Apply for Readmission?

Any previously enrolled student who:

- Has not been enrolled in classes due to personal/health issues, internships, military training, etc.
- Is currently serving a suspension through the Dean of Students Office
- Withdrew through Counseling and Wellness Services or Campus Health Services
- Withdrew at the end of the semester and has already registered for the next term. (Please note that students withdrawing from the University will not be able to retain classes already registered.)
- Is currently only enrolled in Carolina Courses Online and anticipates becoming academically eligible for the next term. (We encourage you to apply well before the deadline.)

How to Apply

1. If you are claiming North Carolina residency, you must submit a residency application with the North Carolina Residency Determination services (RDS) as soon as possible. Go to ncrresidency.cfnc.org/residencyInfo/ for more information.
2. To begin your application for readmission, go to www.admissions.unc.edu/Apply and click “Readmission.”
3. Submit requested application materials:
   - Official transcripts of any coursework completed in the time since you withdrew from UNC. Please note you must have maintained a 2.0 or higher GPA at all previously attended institutions in order to be eligible to return.
4. Resolve any holds that might have been placed on your student account. You can view these holds by visiting your ConnectCarolina Student Center. Instructions will be included on how to clear holds due to academic deficiencies, Dean of Students issues, overdue student accounts, or Counseling and Wellness issues.
5. After submitting your application, continue to check your ConnectCarolina Student Center for updates. Within 1-2 days after submitting your application, you’ll see an updated Admissions To-Do List with any outstanding materials.
6. When your decision is ready, you must view it and accept or decline your offer on your ConnectCarolina Student Center. After replying, please allow for an additional one to two business days for matriculation and access to registration.

Academic Eligibility

If you are academically ineligible, you must submit an appeal for probation through the Office of Undergraduate Retention for approval to enroll in any courses at UNC — including Summer School and Carolina Courses Online. Information about the Appeal for Probation process is available here: https://studentsuccess.unc.edu/appeals/.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

How long does the application process take?
After you have submitted your application, all requested materials have been received, and there are no further items on your Admissions To-Do List, you may expect a decision on your ConnectCarolina Student Center within two weeks.

I applied for readmission weeks ago, so why can’t I register?
Please view your ConnectCarolina Student Center:

• There may be a hold on your account, or we may need additional information to make a decision. Your Admissions To-Do List will show any materials or information you still need to submit.

• Once a decision has been reached on your application, you must formally accept or decline the offer of admission on your Student Center before you will have access to course registration.

Why can’t I log into my ConnectCarolina account?
If you are having any technical issues with ConnectCarolina, please contact the IT Help Desk at (919) 962-HELP.

When should I complete a summer school visitor application or a Part-Time Classroom Studies application?
Never. If at any point you were enrolled at UNC as a full-time student, you should complete a readmission application.

I’m applying online and my major is no longer listed. What should I do?
 Majors that require pre-requisites within our professional schools such as Business Administration or Media and Journalism are not listed on the online application; choose another major and note your actual major in the free-response section of the application.

I want to attend both Summer Session I and II and continue into the fall, do I need to complete an application for each term?
No, complete one application for the Summer Session I and if you are eligible or become eligible for the fall, you will be granted access to fall registration as well.

I’ve been approved to return to campus as a non-traditional readmit, why can’t I register for classes?
If Academic Advising has approved you for readmission as a non-traditional student, you must still apply for readmission.
